

A photograph showing three large, cylindrical rain barrels standing side-by-side outdoors. The barrel on the left is brown, the middle one is green, and the one on the right is grey. Each barrel has a black lid and a green hose connected to a spigot near the bottom. They are positioned in front of a house with light-colored siding and a stone foundation. The text "THE GREAT AMERICAN RAIN BARREL COMPANY" is overlaid in white on a dark green horizontal band across the middle of the image.
